A Time for Laughter

Daylight Savings Time Comments

- At my age, I don't spring forward. I ease forward carefully and hold the railing.
- Daylight Savings Time proves humans will do anything except go to bed earlier.
- Spring Forward: the annual reminder that time is flexible and I am not.
- Daylight Saving Time: when my snooze button becomes my best friend and worst enemy.
- Only the government would think you can cut a foot off the top of a blanket, sew it to the bottom, and call it longer.
- Daylight Savings Time is the annual reminder that half the congregation doesn't know how to change the clock in their car.
- I set my clock forward, but my coffee set me back.
- I don't need more daylight. I need more naps.
- Spring Forward: the day my snooze button earns its paycheck.
- The only thing harder than losing an hour of sleep is pretending you didn't.
- My favorite part of Daylight Savings Time is complaining about Daylight Saving Time.

The Twisted Tongue

Drowsy daylight drifters drag through the day after the dreaded spring-forward shift. Drowsy daylight drifters drag through the day after the dreaded

A Quote to Note

Time is what we want most, but what we use worst.

~ William Penn (1644-1718)

<sup>7</sup> Dear friends, let us love one another, for love comes from God. Everyone who loves has been born of God and knows God. <sup>8</sup> Whoever does not love does not know God, because God is love. <sup>9</sup> This is how God showed his love among us: He sent His one and only Son into the world that we might live through Him. <sup>10</sup> This is love: not that we loved God, but that He loved us and sent His Son as an atoning sacrifice for our sins.
